Senior Star at Weber Place Certified Again as a Great Place to Work®

Senior living community earns honor for second consecutive year

ROMEoville, IL (May 17, 2019) – Senior Star at Weber Place is proud to announce today that they have been certified by Great Place to Work® for a second consecutive year.

Great Place to Work®, an independent research and consulting firm, evaluated more than 1,000 surveys from Senior Star employees across the organization's 15 locations in the United States. Great Place to Work® also assessed more than 60 elements of team members' experience on the job. These included employee pride in the organization's community impact, belief that their work makes a difference and feeling their work has special meaning. Rankings are based on employees' experiences, no matter who they are or what they do. Respect, pride and camaraderie were among the top workplace highlights from Senior Star employees, all of which contributed to this special distinction.

"Senior Star's goal is to exceed the expectations of our diverse group of associates," said Anja Rogers, Senior Star CEO. "Creating an environment of inclusion—where every person feels like they belong and are valued—positively permeates everything we do. We ask associates to commit to a promise: To do for each other with love. I believe the Great Place to Work® certification is a reflection of our associates' dedication to upholding that promise—to each other and to the seniors and families we serve."

Senior Star has implemented many opportunities that cater to the well-being of associates as individuals, such as incorporating a mentorship program that creates a path for career upward mobility and wellness programs to encourage healthy habits. These resources, along with a culture of inclusion and empowerment, translate into happy associates who are at their best when providing care for residents.
